ARTICLE III – AUTHORITY AND JURISDICTION

Section 1 – Policy Making

The Pastor is the administrator of the parish and as such is responsible to the Archbishop. The PPC is a discerning body alongside the pastor for all governance matters of the parish, including but not limited to spiritual, educational and social except to the extent limited by Church law (e.g. Parish Finance Council), faith and morals, diocesan policy, and civil law.

Section 2 – Decisions of the PPC

Consensus through Communal Apostolic Discernment (CAD) is the normal process for decision making within the PPC.

To be most effective the process requires:

- a) genuine Ignatian indifference, that is, putting aside one's own agenda;
- b) listening as well as speaking on the part of all;
- c) placing the best interpretation on the thoughts and opinions of another.

If consensus cannot be reached according to the Chairperson, the matter is tabled for further prayer and reflection.

Section 3 – Pastor Action and Diocesan/Provincial Appeal

Since the Pastor is part of the prayerful discernment and consensus building process, decisions will reside with the entire body of the PPC.

Should the relationship between the pastor and the PPC become strained, either may appeal to the Jesuits Assistant for Parishes or the appropriate diocesan board.

Section 1 – Members

- A. The PPC shall normally be composed of not fewer than 10 and no more than 12 members, including the pastor.
- B. Although the PPC is not a representative, but discerning body, it is desirable to have representation from all aspects of the parish to the extent possible.
- C. PPC members may serve as members but not as chairperson of a Parish Commission in the parish. If they already serve as chairperson for a commission, they will have to resign that position before joining the PPC.

Section 2 – Commitment

Members of the PPC are expected to be in regular attendance at meetings and to participate in retreats and other PPC sponsored functions. A PPC member who finds it necessary to be absent from two or more meetings should reassess his or her ability to make the necessary commitment to serve as a member of the PPC.

Section 3 – Vacancies

In the event that a vacancy occurs among the PPC members during the year, the members shall consider selecting a qualified person to serve the unexpired term beginning immediately.

All nominees will be contacted by one of the current PPC members to explore interest and answer questions.

Any interested nominee should then provide a statement of why they feel called to serve on the PPC.

During or before June 30th the PPC will meet for the selection process outlined below.

Section 3 – Selection

Having read and reflected upon all statements in advance, the pastor, because of his unique role in the parish, can remove any candidate from consideration.

All viable candidates will then be introduced by a PPC member. Questions and comments will in turn be raised by each PPC member including the Pastor. If consensus cannot be achieved for a given candidate, the candidacy will be tabled and reconsidered at the next PPC meeting. If consensus still cannot be achieved, and it is not a matter covered by Article VI, Section 6 #2, that candidate will not be admitted as a member of the PPC.

In the case that the number of suitable candidates exceeds the number of vacancies on the PPC, the members will use the Nominal Group Technique in secret ballot, assigning reverse values for their top 3 choices. A members first choice will receive a weighted value of 3, second choice 2, and third choice 1.

Those with the highest weighted number will be elected up to the number needed to fulfill the vacancy or vacancies.

In case of a tie, the Nominal Group Technique will be used again but limited only to those candidates that were in the tie.

It is not necessary to fill all openings in the case of too few suitable candidates.

Note: because of his unique role in the parish, the Pastor will abstain from participation in the Nominal Group Technique.
